THE SUSSMANS SAGA

Originally published as a “Life and Times in Arthur and Area” piece in the Arthur Enterprise News, May 9, 2001, this article was written by Arthur resident, John Walsh, detailing ‘The Sussmans Saga’.

The article depicts how one of the village’s largest staples got started back in 1915 when founder, Joe Sussman, had been traveling to Arthur to peddle clothes with a horse and cart. After many years of this, he decided to open a store on the west side of George Street with his brother-in-law, Willy Rother, and let the public come in.

As the company grew, they assumed more real estate and occupy much of Arthur’s Main Street today, as new generations of the Sussman’s family came aboard.

Sussman’s of Arthur attracts many to Wellington North as a premiere fashion destination with over 30,000 square feet of fashion for ladies and men, including a large selection of suits.
